

Therapeutic Storytelling

A LIVE JOURNEY INTO THE CRAFT OF
THE HEALING STORY.

The Stories to Help with both Challenging
Behaviour and Situation.

THE STORY CAN BE USED
FOR BOTH, ADULT AND CHILDREN.

BY SUSAN PERROW

A story reaches where a “lecture” can’t.

Write unique story specifically for a child who's struggling, a colleague, family or client going through something hard, or a chapter of your own life that needs a different shape.

With Specifically Designed Storytelling Structures created by renowned Therapeutic storytelling expert - Susan Perrow, this five-sessions journey guide you to build a story on purpose, using intention, metaphor, and structure — not instinct alone.

You don't need to think of yourself as a writer — just a willingness to listen inwardly. The purpose of this programme is not to produce a polished manuscript; we are using story as a way to reach what talk alone cannot, at any age. Through guided teaching and your own writing time, you'll learn to see the pattern beneath the behaviour and meet it with imagination, structure, and care.

What Makes Therapeutic Storytelling Unique?

- A Real Craft, Not Passed-Down Instinct: Eleven principles, taught step by step — intention, story seeds, turning points, and more.

- Built Specifically For the Person in Front of You: leave with a story created for the exact difficulty at hand, not one that is just close enough.

- Safe, Gentle Spaces: Reading circles are never a performance — no writing and storytelling experience required.

- Real Life, Real Results: A finished story you can use immediately, not just notes on theory.

"You don't leave being Fixed—you leave Equipped with Tools to help yourself and others go through their challenges." — Susan Perrow

Your Five-Sessions Journey

5-SESSION STORYTELLING TRAINING CONDUCTED BY SUSAN PERROW

ABOUT YOUR FACILITATOR

Susan Perrow is an author, storyteller and teacher trainer with twenty years teaching across Australia and Africa. She wrote the first university course on therapeutic storytelling, and her books are now read in eight languages.

See beneath the surface. Help people grow. Connect with what truly matters? Also guide others how to connect with themselves. See beneath the behaviour. Help a child move through it. Also guide others how to reach a child who's stopped listening to words alone. Join Susan and a small circle of parents and teachers for a live journey into the craft of the healing story.

Register your place today — spaces are limited.

In this immersive workshop, you'll experience a blend of teaching, silence, and supported writing. Every session weaves together story, structure, and reflection — grounding your imagination in a method you can actually repeat.

- Live teaching across three afternoons, covering all eleven principles
- Guided writing time to build your own story, at your own pace
- Group reading circles and reflective sharing — never a performance
- Integrating your finished story into real use, immediately

Who It's For: Teachers, parents, therapists, counsellors, caregivers, and anyone who tells a story — to a child, to an adult, or to themselves — and wants it to actually land. No writing experience required — just your curiosity and presence.

What Past Participants Say

"You brought such honesty, warmth, encouragement, and humility to your keynote presentations. It was a healing experience to just listen to you." Nancy Blanning, Waldorf Therapeutic Educator & Early Childhood Teacher Trainer, USA

"This training is for everyone — regardless of background, profession, or age. It can help children, families, and communities everywhere." Zeina El Zein, Music Therapist, Lebanon

"It has given me insight and courage to make my own stories — a real knowing that stories are very powerful and do work."

Beth Currie, Social Worker, Toronto

"Enriching and meaningful. When we shared what we'd created together, I was quite touched." Andrina Loo, Therapeutic Play Practitioner, Singapore

"Your work has made a huge impact on my classroom life and my way of thinking about children and adults who are struggling." Kathy Fraser, Teacher, California
